Think and Learn Pvt. Ltd (known as BYJU's – The Learning App) has raised $50 million financing from Chan Zuckerberg Initiative, and its existing investors Sequoia Capital, Sofina, Lightspeed Ventures and Times Internet

| Aventus Capital was the exclusive financial advisor for this transaction.

BYJU's is India's leading learning app and makes use of original content, graphics and other video tools to explain concepts and theories that makes learning contextual and visual, not just theoretical. It leverages technology and data science to make learning personalized so that the students will know what to learn, when to learn, how to learn, how much to learn, and how fast to learn. The company is growing at 15% month-on-month and has crossed 5.5 million downloads. The application has 250,000 annual paid subscribers, having added 30,000 paid students last month.

The immediate focus for Byju's is to expand its user base in India, even as it starts building out product for international expansion. The company already has presence in the Indian and Middle East markets is looking to expand to the USA, UK, South Africa and other African and Commonwealth markets.

“Our international plans will be accelerated because we have much bigger bandwidth, and if there are some special companies which can help us accelerate that process we would be looking at acquisitions.” said Byju Raveendran, Founder CEO of BYJU's.

“Education can give young people and their families a path to a better future, and families in India work hard to give their children that chance. BYJU's represents an opportunity to help even more students develop a love for learning and unlock their potential” said Vivian Wu, at Chan Zuckerberg Initiative, who will join Byju's board.

The company has grown from Rs 45 crores to Rs 120 crores in the last financial year and has already crossed last year's first three quarters numbers in this year's first quarter itself. Byju's targets students from classes 4-12 (K-12) and those taking competitive exams like JEE, NEET, CAT, IAS, GRE and GMAT.

"We are really excited to welcome an investment from Chan Zuckerberg Initiative into BYJU's, as the company continues on its mission of empowering everyone who aspires to learn. Together, the platforms will enable greater reach for a high quality product developed by a great team." said Satyan Gajwani, Vice Chairman, Times Internet.

| About Byju's:

Founded by Byju Raveendran in 2011, BYJU's offers learning programs that are effective and engaging for Class 4-12 & Test prep. It launched BYJU's - The Learning App in 2015, which has seen over 5.5 million downloads in a short span of time.

BYJU's superior content is a result of a 500 member strong R&D team working closely together across three specialised verticals: content creation team drawn from accomplished IIT and IIM graduates, a skilled media production house who transform the content into interactive experiences and a technology team that builds an adaptive platform to give each learner a personalized experience.

BYJU's Learning App makes use of original content, watch-and-learn videos, rich animations and interactive simulations that, as opposed to rote memorization, make learning contextual and visual. Equally important, the app adapts to the unique learning style of each student, inviting them to explore different concepts and suggests a learning footprint for the student that can also address any gaps in learning. The company aims to inspire a lifelong love of learning. For more information, please visit www.byjus.com
